Energy Assistance to low income families. The Low-Income Home Energy Assistance Program (LIHEAP) is designed to assist eligible low-income households pay for winter energy services. LIHEAP will provide a onetime benefit to eligible households to be used for energy bills. The amount of the payment is determined by income, households size, fuel type and geographic location. Eligibility is determined by providing 30 days proof of income and having a utility bill in an adult household member's name. If you have an outstanding bill preventing you from getting utilities on in your name, you may be eligible. Additionally, if utilities are included in rent, you may still be eligible for assistance. Your appointment must be made with a LIHEAP representative. Leaving a message will not get you an appointment. Energy Assistance to low income families. The Low-Income Home Energy Assistance Program (LIHEAP) is designed to assist eligible low-income households pay for winter energy services. LIHEAP will provide a onetime benefit to eligible households to be used for energy bills. The amount of the payment is determined by income, households size, fuel type and geographic location. Eligibility is determined by providing 30 days proof of income and having a utility bill in an adult household member's name. If you have an outstanding bill preventing you from getting utilities on in your name, you may be eligible. Additionally, if utilities are included in rent, you may still be eligible for assistance. Your appointment must be made with a LIHEAP representative. Leaving a message will not get you an appointment.
